MONTAGE

The two get into a mid 90's Subaru station wagon and set off. They drive through the snowy resort community as the sun sets over the mountains to the east. In the evening light the hills are filled with alpenglow.

The two drive in silence, they gaze out the windows and look. On the radio, music plays from a burned CD. They enter a residential community and drive down several streets before reaching their location, a small 1 story house.

EXT. SOUTH LAKE TAHOE - EVENING

2

The two get into a mid 90's Subaru station wagon. Sam grabs a CD binder and begins to flip through it. He selects a burned CD from a collection of other burned CDs and places it in the player.

The music starts and the TITLE SEQUENCE begins.

As they drive we see a bit of South Lake Tahoe.

A casino with piles of snow in front of it.

A group of skiers and snowboarders walking down the sidewalk.

The mountains around the lake, awash in Alpenglow.

They turn into a residential community and drive down several streets before reaching their destination, a small one story house.

END TITLE SEQUENCE.
